

Sandstone Group

Food Service Division

Lakeside • Geneva • Alluserv • Multiteria • Made To Drain • PrisonBilt

John Gregor

Marketing Communications Associate

Sandstone Group Food Service Division

E-mail: jgregor@elakeside.com

Direct: (414) 902-6437

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Sandstone Group Food Service Division Hires Nancy Lane as Senior Designer of Visual Merchandising and Product Concepts

Milwaukee, Wis. – October 06, 2014 – Nancy Lane joins the Sandstone Group Food Service Division where she will contribute her talents to expand Sandstone’s capabilities in visual merchandising and product development.

Previously, Ms. Lane was the Education Development Account Manager at a major national distributor of foodservice equipment and was responsible for over 3,000 national accounts in the K-12 schools and university markets. She played a vital role in remodeling college and university dining facilities to enhance customer experiences, improve operational efficiencies and increase revenue.

Ms. Lane is active with NACUFS and SNA by providing members design consulting services and also conducting educational presentations about visual merchandising. In addition, she has served on the NACUFS Board of Directors, the Industry Advisory Council and various other committees. She has also held several leadership positions at the School Nutrition Association (SNA).

A native of Michigan, Ms. Lane attended Mount St. Joseph University. She lives in Lawrenceburg, Ind., with her husband Michael. Their son and daughter-in-law, Adam and Sarah, have three children, Hudson, Wyatt and Everleigh.

About Sandstone Foodservice Group

Based out of Milwaukee, WI, Sandstone Group Food Service Division consists of the flagship company Lakeside, as well as five other companies including Geneva, Alluserv, Made To Drain, Multiteria and PrisonBilt.

###